Dear Parents

This week parents of pupils in years 7-9 will have received a copy of the latest Digital Parenting magazine via their daughter. I hope you find the publication informative and would especially like to recommend the article which asks Are you a tech role model? and Social media, body image and the pressure to look just right. The magazine also publishes an updated guide to setting parental controls on apps and devices which you may find useful. A link to the magazine for parents in years 10-13 can be found here <https://parentzone.org.uk/digital-parenting-online-safety-magazine-archive>.

I am enclosing a link to the NSPCC website, click here <https://www.nspcc.org.uk/preventing-abuse/keeping-children-safe/sexting/>. They have produced useful information regarding talking to our children about sexting and what we can do to protect them.

Kind regards
Mrs L Smith
