

Houses, History & Humour (A British Estate Agent in France)

by Lynette Phillips, Matignon

Moving to France in 2002, the Writer (an Estate Agent from Hereford) immediately falls into a job. Totally immersed into a different culture, with completely alien work practices, it's also a story of survival against many odds. In 'the merde' from day one, it has its hilarious moments amongst the seriousness and kindness of les Français, not least her survivors from the Second World War. With clipboard and camera, first hand tales from Members of la Résistance, and a little bit of early British history thrown in for good measure, this is a book of many parts.

"I enjoyed the book immensely and having lived in France for a few years can identify with the story, comments etc. It's a great read with many very funny moments..."

Paperback now available to buy via Amazon and Waterstones online

ISBN-10: 1786102382 ISBN-13: 978-1786102386

Houses, History & Humour (A British Estate Agent in France)

by Lynette Phillips, Matignon

Moving to France in 2002, the Writer (an Estate Agent from Hereford) immediately falls into a job. Totally immersed into a different culture, with completely alien work practices, it's also a story of survival against many odds. In 'the merde' from day one, it has its hilarious moments amongst the seriousness and kindness of les Français, not least her survivors from the Second World War. With clipboard and camera, first hand tales from Members of la Résistance, and a little bit of early British history thrown in for good measure, this is a book of many parts.

"I enjoyed the book immensely and having lived in France for a few years can identify with the story, comments etc. It's a great read with many very funny moments..."

Paperback now available to buy via Amazon and Waterstones online

ISBN-10: 1786102382 ISBN-13: 978-1786102386